

Governor's Day At Camp Grayling

Grayling Public Schools To Open September 2, 1952

On Tuesday morning, Sept. 2, the Grayling Public School staff will meet to organize for the 1952-53 school year.

Due to a change in the State School Membership rules the pupils will meet for the initial enrollment at 1:00 p. m. Tuesday. They will meet again on Wednesday at 9:00 a. m. Sept. 3rd and go through a full day's schedule which will be shortened so that school can be dismissed at noon for the day. On Thursday, Sept. 4th the regular daily schedule will be followed.

Students from the Kindergarten through the sixth grade will be furnished text books, but all work books, pencils, crayons, paper, etc., are to be furnished by the pupils. They are not to bring money for the work books until notified to do so by the teachers. In grades 7 and 8 a rental fee of $1 and in grades 9 through 12 a rental fee of $1.50 will be charged for the use of text books. The rental fees are payable when the students enroll. The rental fee does not cover damage, loss or unreasonable wear of text books.

Stephan - Engle Win Canoe Race

Winners of last year's 35-mile Sturgeon River canoe race and two-time winners of the Michigan Canoe Championships down the AuSable River, beat their own record last Sunday in the third annual event sponsored by the Wolverine Sportsmen's Association.

Jay Stephan, of Grayling, and Ted Engle, of Gaylord, paddled their canoe over the swift and winding Sturgeon River in three hours, one minute and 29 seconds, bettering their last year's record by eight minutes and 21 seconds, to win the championship.

Young Stephan and Engle, who also are entered in the Michigan Championship Canoe race down the AuSable River Sept. 2-12, took $135 in prizes, a trophy and gold medals.

Bernie Fowler and Don Feldhauser, of Grayling, came in second, clocking three hours, six minutes and nine seconds. Third place winners were Mark Klein and Jack Kent, of Atlanta, three hours, 10 minutes and 45 seconds. Fowler and Feldhauser took $72 and silver medals, and Klein and Kent covered the route from Cornwall, south of Wolverine, to the old US-27 bridge at Indian River, in three hours, 10 minutes and 45 seconds.

Other entries in the race were John Schilbe and Elmer Kellogg, of Grayling and Frederic, respectively; Thomas Gildersleeve and James Larson, of Oscoda; Leonard Spencer and Ernest Gaiser of Mio; Dr. Ron Smith and Gerald Inman, of Galesburg; Howard Hatfield and Bob Smock of Grayling; Frank Smutek and Gerald Curley, of Oscoda; Tom Shelters, and Vernon Arcand, of Milford; and Earl Graham and Jim Wilkins of Alpena.

Former Local Girl Accepts Nurse Position

Mrs. William Rosin, the former Jane Elizabeth Milnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Milnes of Grayling will be the nurse at Eastern New Mexico University starting with this fall's term. It has been announced by University President Floyd D. Golden.

Mrs. Rosin is a 1947 graduate of Wayne University and Grace Hospital School of Nursing in Detroit. After going to New Mexico with her husband who is now a student at the University, she did general duty at the Clovis, New Mexico Memorial Hospital, several and surgical nursing at Roosevelt General Hospital at Portales, New Mexico.

Grayling Fire Department News

Ten Grayling merchants donate five flashing lights. They are: Welsh Motor Sales, 3 lights; Alfred Hanson's Garage, 2 lights; Earl Burns, 1 light; Bill's Laundry, 1 light; Charles Mosher, 1 light; Peterson Lumber Co., 1 light; Rasmussen's Lumber Co., 1 light; Burrows' Food Mkt., 1 light; Clough Realty, 1 light; Baringer's Shop, 1 light.

Above is a list of the Grayling merchants who, last week and this week have donated flashing lights to the fire department. The Grayling Fire Department would at this time like to thank each and every merchant who has donated a light. We are very glad to get these lights and we can't thank these merchants enough for the fine donations.

In case any other merchant would like to donate a light we can use six more. You may place your order for a light with Bob LaMotte or call the Welsh Motor Sales.

These lights cost about $7.50 complete in case any one is interested.

Parents or guardians are asked to bring the beginning pupils when they enroll and take them home after they have enrolled. It will be a great help if the child's name, birth date, place of birth, parents names and occupations, a list of diseases the child has had and any other information that will help the school in the caring for the child, are written on a sheet of paper and brought when the enrollment takes place.

Both school buildings have been put in fine shape by the men during the summer. Most of the desks have been refinished and the regular cleaning, painting, and varnishing has been completed by Oscar Goss, Leslie Goss and Walter LaMotte.

The school staff and other information will be listed in next week's Avalanche.

Kiwanis Club Notes

Major Clyde Borchers of the United States Air Force home on leave following over two years service in Germany was the speaker at Monday night's meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Grayling.

Major Borchers, introduced by club vice-president Don Cochro, who was in charge of the meeting, told club members of his experiences in Europe and of the economy and living conditions of the German people. The Air Force Major interested the club members with his talk about the methods of farming, fishing, hunting, timber management and conservation work as it is practiced in Bavaria where he was stationed.

He described the growth of the United States bases in that country and of the building up of bowling alleys, theatres and other entertainment places for the members of our country's forces serving on foreign soil.

He followed his descriptive talk with a question and answer period in which he portrayed more fully different subjects in which some of the club members were interested.

Thirteen special menus to be used by mess personnel will be the basis for all meals served to units of the Michigan National Guard during the 15-day field training period.

Why 13 menus for 15 days? On the first and last days of 1952 field maneuvers, all personnel will eat C-rations.

For the first six days of field training, all units will draw rations usually allotted Army units plus an additional 10 percent of meat and potatoes and 20 percent more bread.

Extra issue of these staple foods is necessary to satisfy appetites made ravenous by unaccustomed activities and northern climate. At the end of the first few days in camp, appetites should level off to normal.

Potatoes at camp will be served mashed, hashed brown, fried and baked; meat will consist of Chicken, steaks, roasts, ham and fish; and there'll be an abundance of bread and butter, coffee, milk, fruits and vegetables.

Extras to be served include ice cream, different kinds of pie, puddings, fruit punch, lemonade and hot biscuits.

Following is a sample breakfast: Chilled flax, cereal, milk, fried eggs, fried potatoes, toast and butter, applebutter and coffee.

Breakfasts like this one, with noon and evening meals dished out proportionately and combined with regular hours should add weight and strength to men and morale.

Miss Vivette Isenbauer was guest of honor at a bridal shower given by Mrs. Norman Feldhauser Wednesday evening. Forty persons attended the party and she received several beautiful gifts.

Bunco was played during the evening. Ice cream, cake and coffee was enjoyed later by the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hanson of Detroit were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Holger Hanson for a few days last week.

Grayling Splits Double Header

The Grayling Independents split with Kalkaska in a double header ball game at Kalkaska Sunday with the home team taking the first game 2 to 1 and Grayling winning the nightcap on a 7 to 1 score.

Bud Ceid pitched the first game for Grayling with Clyde Anthony catching. Each team garnered four hits but Kalkaska managed to push over their two winning runs in the ninth inning on errors.

A cross started on the mound for Kalkaska and was relieved in the third inning by Hanson. D. Lund was behind the plate. Leon Granger garnered two of Grayling's four hits with Ed Owens and Tom Anthony accounting for the other two.

Bob Gildner was on the mound for Grayling in the second game with Tom Anthony behind the plate. The double header was made up of a regularly scheduled Chain of Lakes League game and a makeup game when Kalkaska was to play Grayling here and the contest was rained out.

Cross started on the mound again for Kalkaska and was relieved in the sixth by Lewis. D. Lund was again behind the plate. Grayling scored their 7 runs on 10 hits with Gildner and Owens each accounting for two and Tom Anthony, Bernie Sadjak, George Hanson, Bud Ceid, Leo Granger and Ted Davenport each adding a hit. The two games counting in the rest period between, were played in the record time of three hours and 55 minutes.

Next Sunday Grayling travels to Traverse City to meet the Consumers Power Company team of that city in a regular league fray.

Guardsmen Pass In Review Saturday; Open Post This Week - End

Michigan's own 48th "Iron Fist" National Guard Division massed in regiments and battalions and interspersed with the heavy mechanized machines of warfare will pass in review before Michigan's Governor C. Mennen Williams at Camp Grayling this Saturday, August 23, in one of the highlights of the 1952 field training encampment.

Saturday has been designated Governor's Day in honor of the commander in chief's visit to the historic military training reservation. The chief executive is expected to arrive by air in Grayling Saturday morning, make a brief inspection tour of the encampment area before luncheon with Major General Ralph A. Loveland, divisional commander and members of his staff.

After the Governor's arrival in Grayling, his first official act will be to review the massed armored strength of the Michigan National Guard. The medium and light tank groups and armored cars will pass in review before the Governor. Major General Loveland and other high officers of the Division at the Armored Training Center located several miles north east of Grayling.

Ceremonies of the traditional Division Review will begin at 2 P. M. when the Governor will present the Brigadier General Earl M. Stewart medal to an enlisted man, symbolic of his selection as the outstanding citizen-soldier of the 1952 encampment. Final elimination in this annual competition will be held at Camp Grayling this Friday.

Following the Governor's inspection of the troops and the pageantry of the massing of the men of the over 8,000 officers and men of the 48th Division will be a review in a demonstration of the massed manpower and equipment of Michigan's National Guard Division. Hundreds of relatives and friends of Guardsmen are expected to throng the sidelines to witness the colorful highlight of the 1952 field training encampment.

Governor Williams will be the guest of honor Saturday evening at a reception at the Officer's Club at Camp Grayling. Following the reception of officers and guests by high Guard officers and the Governor, dance music will be furnished by the newly organized 48th Division dance band.

On Sunday morning, Governor Williams will be the principal speaker at the annual Memorial Service held during each encampment in honor of the hero dead of the Michigan National Guard who have given their lives in battle for their country. The Memorial Service will be held on the slopes of Division Hill.

Families and friends of many guardsmen are expected to attend the activities of Governor's Day and the following day. Sunday afternoon has been set aside as a period of rest and recreation for all troops. Unit cooks will prepare extra servings to give visiting families a taste of camp life.

Units of the 48th Division will move into the field next Tuesday, August 26 for exercises which will include an infantry division in the attack. The two-night bivouac will include security measures and resupply at night. Artillery and armored units will train in conjunction with the problem. Nearly all of the troop maneuvers will be north of the down river road and east of Grayling, encircling around the Lovells Road.

Motorists traveling that route on the nights of Tuesday and Wednesday are urged to take it easy and keep their eyes open.

On Thursday units will return to the main camp. On Friday, the eagle will fly as all Guardsmen receive their Federal pay for the 1952 field training encampment. That same night movements will start the trek to home stations throughout the state. Motor movements will begin Saturday morning, August 30.

The first weeks training schedule took most of the troops to Camp Grayling, extensive array of firing ranges for further practice and qualification scoring with small arms and crew-served weapons.

Warned by their commander, Major General Ralph A. Loveland, that a truce in Korea would not necessarily mean end to the world crisis and the need for American mobilization, Guardsmen of the 48th Infantry Division took to the firing ranges armed not only with their various weapons-but, also with the knowledge that lessons learned here may some day stand them in good stead. Exactly when General Loveland could not say.

Retreat parades will top each days training events during the first week. Medals will be awarded to outstanding Guardsmen at two of these colorful parades. The Major General Thomas A. Colladay Medal will be awarded to the top enlisted man selected for soldierly proficiency in the 125th Infantry Regiment. The outstanding man in the 126th Infantry Regiment of Western Michigan will receive the Colonel Marie B. Howe Medal.

At a meeting of all officers of the Division held last Sunday morning, General Loveland spoke to the assembled citizen soldiers on the coming two weeks of field training. Brig. General S. L. Marshall, who has recently returned from the Korean Theatre of Operations spoke at some length on the lessons learned in that Theatre in battle. Gen. Marshall headed the Historical Section for the Armed Forces during World War II and told the assembled men various incidents of the last war and of the present struggle in Korea. He stressed the imperative need of good communication between units from front to rear areas and laterally across the field of battle. Not only are good communications needed but accurate reporting of what has been observed in order that the situation may be summed up in the right proportion.

The wives of the officers of Michigan National Guard invite the ladies of Grayling to attend a dessert luncheon at the Officers Club, Camp Grayling at 1:30 P. M. on Tuesday, August 26.

Mrs. Kenneth Larkey

Wilbur Simpson and John Schofield attended the Democratic convention at Lansing Saturday.

Are Michigan's "Independent voters" too independent for their own good?

At least one political stalwart thinks so and that feeling is growing in circles interested in good government on a non-partisan basis.

"People have crossed party lines so often to vote for the man instead of the party that we are losing our characteristic form of American government," he says. He doesn't want his name used but he would be considered quite an expert by any observer.

"Because of that habit we've had a Democratic Governor and a Republican Legislature in Michigan these past years and everyone knows the situation isn't healthy."

"There has often been so much political sniping that neither the executive nor the legislative branches have been willing or able to settle down to business. At best, the fact they didn't see eye-to-eye on basic issues has made cooperation difficult and short-lived."

"We've seen the disastrous results of national levels when Herbert Hoover could get no seriously enacted legislation from a Democratic Congress. And four years ago when Harry Truman had a GOP Congress, Capitol Hill and the White House worked at cross purposes," he cites.

What's the answer? Party discipline, says the commentator.

"Parties should have well-defined platforms and stick to them. Each member of that party should support those basic principles under penalty of being read out of the party. It works in England, it'd work here."

This man, incidentally, like the typical Midwestern manufacturer and politician that he is, doesn't admire England to a fault. He's probably inclined a little the other way but he does concede good points in their political system.

"If we had that party discipline, we couldn't have such splits as the Dixiecrats and the Northern Liberals in the Democratic party or the isolation - internationalism or conservative - liberal wings in the GOP," he believes.

"The voter would have to be trained, too, to realize that he gets a better government (and usually a more efficient and economical one) if there is party harmony between the executive and the Legislature."

"If the voter were assured that all members of one party were strictly obligated to carry out its platform, there wouldn't be the need to cross party lines to elect the individual he favors personally."

On a national level this would probably mean an eventual realignment of political parties as we know them. He believes that a more clear cut distinction would then be made between the conservative and liberal elements in the country no matter what political label they now bear.

"That would get us back to the traditional two - party system where the entire state or national government - executive and legislative - would be voted in or out of office as a body."

On the Michigan level, the change wouldn't be so marked, he believes, because party platforms have never figured so prominently in campaigns.

There are plenty of issues in Michigan.

Right now the corporation profits tax that Governor Williams has long espoused is indicative of the basic differences of Democratic and Republican views on taxation.

Reapportionment of the legislature - coming up for an electoral decision in the Constitutional amendment ballot in November - is another that goes down to the most elemental philosophy of government.

That question is - phrased as simply as possible and there fore not entirely adequate - Shall the Legislature be made up solely on a population basis or shall it be so divided that no one geographical area dominates State government?

But with such a personality expert as Gov. Williams running against Fred M. Alger, himself no mean shakes as a call-em-by-their-first-name-er, it's pretty safe to bet an inflated dime that the 1952 election will find most voters interested in State personalities than in platforms.

Not Good Enough

If the Administration has its way, the Federal government will spend $85,400,000,000 of our money this year. The Treasury anticipates an income of $71,000,000,000 which would leave a deficit of $14,400,000,000. Even that picture is probably over-bright—the Joint Congressional Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation believes that the Treasury's revenue estimates are too high by about $4,000,000,000.

Luckily for the present and future strength and security of this country, Congress seems to be finally opening its eyes to the fact that the budget can be cut—and must be cut. Many requested appropriations have been sharply pared, and more reductions are in prospect. All in all, it looks as if Congress will reduce the President's budget by a total of something like $9,000,000,000.

This is good news—but it isn't good enough. A great many experts on government administration and policy are convinced that, so far, Congress has only dealt with some of the more flagrant wastes and extravagances. They are convinced that many more billions can be saved without impairing any necessary government activity—including an adequate national defense and a reasonable amount of foreign aid.

The ordinary American family is undoubtedly giving more thought to the tax burden than it ever did in the past. That family must contribute about $1,500 a year to meet the current tax bill. It is the people of modest means who must carry most of the load now—for the rich have long been taxed to the point of confiscation.

Waste can destroy a nation just as it can destroy a business or a family. We're no exception to that grim rule.

"All my life I've wanted to own a Buick"

Power Steering now available on Super as well as Roadmaster—optional at extra cost.

It seems that owning a Buick is something that a lot of folks dream about—plan for—and finally do.

We say that because, so many times, they say so in words like those above.

Those words make us happy, of course—happy to know we sell a car which means so much to those who own it.

But they make us feel just a little bit sad as well—sad to realize all the years of fun such folks have been missing for no good reason at all.

For the fact is this:

If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick.

You can afford the thrill of bossing around that big Fireball 8 Engine that purrs forth a mighty flow of power.

You can afford the gas bills—as any owner of a 1952 Buick will tell you—because that high-compression, valve-in-head marvel gets a lot of miles from a gallon of fuel.

You can afford the extra luxury of a real million dollar ride—the silken smoothness of Dynaflo Drive*—the extra room and comfort and style that have put Buick popularity right up at the top of the list, next to the "low-priced three."

So if you want to own a Buick—there's just one thing to do:

Come in—pick the one of your choice—and let us show you how close the figure that goes on the bill of sale comes to what you'd pay elsewhere.

As we've said before, your first car can be a Buick. Why not take the Big Step right away—today?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Oaks Family Enjoys Reunion

The thirty-first Oaks family reunion was held Saturday, August 9, on Ojibway Island, Saginaw, Michigan.

Tables were laden with delicious food, to which fifty-four sat down and ate their fill and more. Next came the business meeting, called to order by Claude Nash, president. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Phyllis Nash, secretary. Letters received and on hand for all to read were from San Fernando, Calif., Moberg, South Dakota, Washington, Minnesota, Anacostia, Wash., and many places in Michigan. By an overwhelmingly large vote, Grayling was elected for the next reunion, with Hurl Deckrow, president; Junior Palmer, vice president; and Doris Palmer, secretary-treasurer.

Now for the games, thoroughly enjoyed by young and old alike. Mrs. Bertha Oaks received the prize as the oldest "Oak" and little Keith Deckrow the youngest. The egg throwing contest was won by Mr. and Mrs. Orville Barnes, although it was hinted they had practiced throwing eggs prior to the contest. Other winners were Ray Oaks, mens race and Barbara Deckrow, womens race and many winners in the childrens games. Also Orville Barnes won the jumping rope endurance contest.

There was more than enough ice cream served and the annual ball game started, but was rained out after the first inning. We would have won anyway as the umpire was a relative.

The spirit of those attending was dampened by the weather, which was wet, but by noting this being the first reunion in thirty-one years, with no one from Grayling attending, we missed them, but know next year we will all be together again for such a wonderful time.

Phyllis Nash, Secretary.

TO HOLD STATE 4-H CLUB SHOW

Michigan's State 4-H Club Show is unique in that it is the only state-wide 4-H Club competitive event held on a land grant college campus apart from any state or regional fair.

The 1952 event, August 26 through 29, will mark the 37th State 4-H Club Show. Since 1942 they have been held on the Michigan State College Campus in East Lansing. Prior to 1942 the show was held in connection with the annual Michigan State Fair in Detroit. It was moved to MSC when the State Fair was abandoned during the war. Parents and agricultural leaders of the state found the facilities for handling the boys and girls in college housing more satisfactory than at the Detroit fair grounds and urged that it be held at MSC even after the State Fair was resumed in 1947.

In the eleven years the State Show has been held at Michigan State College it has more than tripled in size.

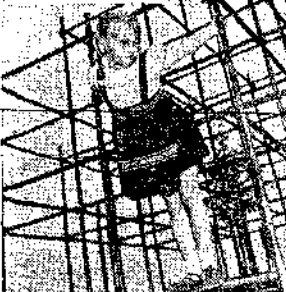

The 1952 show, under the direction of Acting State Leader Verne Peterson, is expected to bring about 1,000 boys and girls to East Lansing for the week. They exhibit, demonstrate or judge in more than 500 classes and divisions listed in the premium book. There will be an all-time high—$28,000. That money is provided primarily by the State Fair and Fairs and organizations

1952 POLIO PRECAUTIONS

DON'T MIX WITH NEW GROUPS

DON'T GET OVERTIRED

RECOMMENDED BY THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Seven-year-old Karen Blecha enacts 1952 polio precautions recommended by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. When polio is around, the National Foundation cautions parents to watch for these signs: headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, tenderness and stiffness of neck and back. A person showing such symptoms should be put to bed at once, away from others. Then, call your doctor and follow his advice. If polio is diagnosed, call your local chapter of the March of Dimes for advice and assistance, including needed financial help.

Last year 79 of Michigan's 83 counties were represented by boys and girls at the State Show. They exhibited nearly 1,400 head of livestock. Girls showed more than 600 food preservation and preparation exhibits.

Judging gets under way Tuesday, August 26 and will end the following Friday. Evening entertainment will feature the usual general assembly, dress revue and a talent program in the college auditorium. These programs, as well as other events, are open to the public free of charge.

The State 4-H Club Show is a regular part of the educational program of the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State College. This service reaches more than 100,000 Michigan farm families annually through county agricultural agents, home demonstration agents and 4-H Club agents serving in the counties and a state extension staff helping these field agents.

The 2,000 boys and girls attending the State Show will be housed in Shaw Hall dormitory during the four-day event. An equal number, living in nearby counties, is expected to drive to East Lansing for the events in which they participate.

Attending the state show from Crawford County will be Phyllis Goss and Caroline Long of Grayling. They will be competing in the State Conservation Demonstration Contest.

RESEARCH PAYS OFF

There's been a lot of talk about farmer-hunter relations in Michigan and there's going to be a lot more. In the heavily populated southern and southeastern parts of the state the hunting army is growing bigger every year. The main target is the pheasant and most of the good pheasant-hunting territory is privately owned by hard-working farmers who aren't too fond of trespassers. Hence, the "relations" problem. The State is stepping in as peacemaker, putting itself in the farmer's place in a huge research project at Rose Lake near East Lansing.

More Wildlife Per Acre

If the farmer's interested—and many of them are—the Conservation Department can show him how to improve his property easily and most inexpensively so that it will support the maximum amount of game without affecting his crop production. At the Rose Lake Wildlife Experiment Station an intensive study of game populations and good game cover has been going on for several years. The Station is built around typical farm land. More than 600 acres is actually under cultivation, so this is a research problem that's entirely practical.

Application of Plan

Let's suppose you're an average Michigan farmer. Your farm includes some perfectly flat acreage, a few gullies or drainage ditches here and there, fence rows, and maybe a woodlot or two. Any game on your farm must find protective cover in the weed growth along the ditches or fence rows, or in the woodlot. The Rose Lake Station can show you, with proof in practice, that the simple planting of rapidly growing multi-flora rose along the fence rows will produce excellent habitat for pheasant and rabbits the year round. The multi-flora hedge will beautify your farm, too.

Other types of bushy vegetation can be recommended for ditch edges and gullies. Such planting not only helps game but holds the soil together and halts erosion. The wooded section of the farm can be improved, too. A certain amount of cutting is essential—and with the proper treatment you'll not only have more abundant wildlife but the woodlot will give you more valuable timber, too.

Attitude Toward Hunters

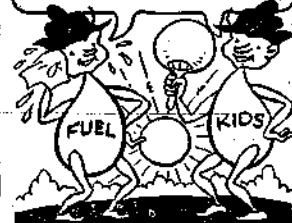

With more game on your farm you'll be inclined to allow the well-behaved hunter to hunt over your property—and you can be mighty sure that, with the adequate cover you've helped nature provide, there's no danger of killing off all of your wildlife. Plenty of seed stock will always remain—another point that's been proven conclusively at the Rose Lake project where hunting is permitted under a so-many-guns-per-acre regulation.

If you farmers are interested in a plan to improve your farm to encourage more wildlife population, drop a line to the Game Division in our Conservation Department at Lansing. They're not selling anything. They're giving it away for the everlasting benefit of Michigan Outdoors!

Mort Neff's "Michigan Outdoors" television show may be seen every Thursday at 10:00 p.m. on stations WWJ-TV, Detroit and WJIM-TV, Lansing.

Things you'd like to know about your Railroad

Biggest Diesel fleet saves you money!

1. 1795 DIESEL UNITS are pulling for you on New York Central. Another 153 are on the way. To join this largest diesel-electric fleet owned by any railroad, their efficient power... working long hours, saving on service and fuel... helps keep rail rates far below most prices.

2. THE DOLLARS AND CENTS of what modern rail efficiency means is well illustrated by this family dinner. Since 1946, the price of this meal has risen from $2.37 to $5.15. But the rail freight part of that cost has gone up only 3¢... from 16¢ in 1946, to 19¢ in 1952!

3. RAILROADERS BENEFIT, TOO! Diesel-electric power and other efficiencies help them enjoy 143% higher average wage rates than during the 1935-39 period. Last year, New York Central paid $468,600,000 in wages. And most of that was spent in towns like yours along the line.

4. SO WHEN YOU SEE A New York Central diesel at work, remember it's a sign of progress. Progress that means good service... efficient service to your community... at rates that are a far cry from the kind of progress in the coal and oil fields.

Here's the most for your money!

Get a Real Truck—a GMC with:

Full-pressure lubrication to all main bearings—forced-fed even to the piston pins!

Airplane-type main & rod bearings for extra durability and extra service under heavy pressures and high speeds!

Deep, rigid frame construction—just like the big GMC's—backbone the rugged, truck-built chassis!

Recirculating ball-bearing steering mechanism for "passenger-car" ease in handling!

"Shockproof," four-point cab mounting—same as heavy-duty GMC's—for longer truck life and greater driver protection!

Long, pillow-action springs that smooth the going—cushion the load!

Luxury-type seat cushions—deep coil springs like the big GMC's—road-liners—that mean extra driver comfort and efficiency!

THERE'S NO mystery to the extra years of dependable performance you get from a GMC truck.

In ½- to 2-ton GMC models you will find many of the same extra-value heavy-duty features that make larger GMC's today's standard performers on the road—features you do not get in other trucks of this size.

That's why you can expect more from a GMC—you get more value for your money. Come in and get the full story.

The American Way

The words "Michigan" and "fishing" are practically synonymous at this time of the year. And after a day's fishing, it's the "American Way" to enjoy a glass of cool, refreshing Michigan brewed beer. For beer belongs... to pleasant living, to good fellowship, to sensible moderation. And our right to enjoy it, this too, belongs... to our own American heritage of personal freedom.

But it was a grand party while it lasted. There were 14 members present at this week's meeting. No fires during the past week. Meeting was adjourned at 8:45 p. m.

Michigan Mirror

Although for the record, they maintain they're in the race to win, few of its own members are so naive as to believe that they can actually out-poll the two major parties.

But the Prohibition Party may play a more important role this year than it has since the days of Prohibition.

The reason is pure mathematics. The "experts" around the Capital—real or self-styled—think that there will be about 12,000 voters roughly classified as "Prohibition party voters." Thus 12,000 might well be the decisive margin in as closely a fought campaign as this one already shapes up to be.

If they vote for the Prohibition Party, which of the major parties is going to lose these votes? If individuals switch, which party will gain these votes?

Republican leaders, knowing that Prohibitionists are conservative people, hope the individual voter in the small party will hesitate to waste a ballot for a candidate that can't possibly win. Then, the GOP is sure, they'll find the Republican party appeals to their conservatism and add at least the major portion of that 12,000 to the GOP totals.

SHORT STORY

Vanity All

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

"EVERY MAN," said Inspector Joe Warren, frowning over the letter which he held in his hand, "has a weak point. In the case of 'The Flash,' most daring criminal of this city's criminal history, it appears to be vanity."

He gestured toward the letter. "The fellow has become drunk with his success in accomplishing two outstanding robberies. And now he has taken to writing us letters, stating just where he's going to be at a certain time and what he plans to do."

Detective Fargo blew smoke rings at the ceiling and eyed his chief's eyes. "So far," he said, "he seems to have been pretty successful in carrying out his plans. This is the third letter we've received."

"Each time 'The Flash' has appeared where he said he would at exactly the time denoted in his letters. And while we've stood idly by he's committed his crimes and escaped. What's he up to this time?"

"The Devonshire party," Warren growled. The truth of Fargo's statement scored him. "Mrs. Devonshire is planning to wear that valuable emerald her husband brought her from Europe a month ago. The Flash states in this letter that he intends to steal the emerald and defies us to stop him."

Fargo crushed out his cigaret. "Have you taken any steps to prevent the robbery?"

"Fargo, as you know, the Flash's disguise is perfect. He'll appear at that party as a guest, or servant or someone with whom the Devonshires are but slightly acquainted. I want you to go up there early, meet Mrs. Devonshire when she comes down stairs and stick with her until the last guest has gone. Then see to it that the emerald is stored away in a safe before you leave. I'll have Johnson and a couple of other men mingling with the guests."

AT 11 O'CLOCK on the night of the Devonshire party Inspector Warren drew his roadster up before the palatial mansion and ascended the steps.

The moment the Devonshire butler opened the door Warren knew something had happened. The butler's face was white and drawn, and over his shoulder Warren could see a group of guests huddled in the hallway, with Detective Johnson standing guard.

Warren stepped quickly inside. And at that moment Mrs. Devonshire, accompanied by her husband and Detective Fargo, came flying down the stairs.

"What's happened?" Warren barked at Fargo, ignoring the incoherent babble of Mrs. Devonshire.

"It's gone," Fargo grated. "About an hour ago, I was standing behind Mrs. Devonshire in the reception line. Someone poked a gun in my back and told me to walk backwards. When I saw the fellow's face I knew it was 'The Flash,' because he was a dead ringer for myself."

"A ringer for you?" Warren gasped. "What the devil do you mean?"

"I mean," said Fargo grimly, "that his disguise this time looked like me, generally speaking. He forced me into a closet and cracked me over the head. Naturally no one noticed that anything was happening as Mrs. Devonshire was exhibiting her emerald at the time. And when 'The Flash' returned and stood in my place, it occurred to no one that it was not me."

"Ten minutes ago I came to and began to kick on the door. Devonshire opened it. I rushed to Mrs. Devonshire and discovered that she had just missed her emerald. The Flash has outsmarted us again!"

Warren slumped wearily into a chair.

"Tomorrow," he growled, "every newspaper in the city will have the story. It will be the most humiliating moment of my life."

Fargo smiled bitterly. "Every man has his weak point," he said. "Yours seems to be vanity."
